

All Smoking Tobaccos are Flavored

"Your Nose Knows"

The Encyclopaedia Britannica says about the manufacture of smoking tobacco, "... on the Continent and in America certain 'sauces' are employed ... the use of the 'sauces' is to improve the flavour and burning qualities of the leaves."

Your smoke-enjoyment depends as much upon the Quality and kind of flavoring used as upon the Quality and aging of the tobacco.

Tuxedo tobacco uses the purest, most wholesome and delicious of all flavorings—chocolate! That flavoring, added to the finest of carefully aged and blended burley tobacco, produces Tuxedo—the perfect tobacco—

"Your Nose Knows."

Try This Test: Rub a little Tuxedo briskly in the palm of your hand to bring out its full aroma. Then smell it deep—its delicious, pure fragrance will convince you. Try this test with any other tobacco and we will let Tuxedo stand or fall on your judgment—"Your Nose Knows."

MOTHER GIVES CHILD'S RELIC FOR RELIEF.

One of the proofs of how the story of the unparalleled distress of the little nations of the Near East has come home to the hearts of the American public, was typified in a letter at New York headquarters received from a lady in Missouri, who wrote Cleveland H. Dodge, Treasurer of the Committee, as follows: "Enclosed you will find a draft for a small amount to help a little in relieving the suffering in Western Asia. I am also sending a ten-cent piece which I have kept for over 30 years, because it was found clasped in my baby's hand when he died, but I feel that I have no right to keep it longer when other babies are starving."

At a luncheon last week of workers of the American Committee for

New York City, this story was told, relief in the Near East Campaign in and it was asked whether there was any one person who would like to make a special gift to the Armenian cause in return for this priceless little blackened ten-cent piece, and return the precious relic to the mother who had been capable of such a supreme sacrifice. Two offers were made, one being for $100, which was accepted. If all Americans were giving in the spirit of this mother the $30,000,000, required for the rehabilitation of the Near East would not only be raised, but overpassed within a very short time.

THAT TERRIBLE HEADACHE.

Do you have periodic attacks of headache accompanied by sickness of the stomach or vomiting, a sallow skin and dull eyes? If so, you can get quick relief by taking Chamberlain's Tablets as directed for biliousness, and you may be able to avoid these attacks if you observe the directions with each package. (adv.)

PROTECT BOB WHITE

A number of the up-to-date farmers of Clinton county, Ill., will ask the Legislature of that State to give Bob White greater protection. If Bob and many other birds were cared for by the farmers and protected by the laws, any number of our insect pests would practically go out of business by the way of the birds' stomachs.

"TAPS" SOUNDED FOR FAMOUS CONFEDERATE GENERAL.

Gen. Bennett H. Young, soldier, attorney, author and former commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, is dead. The death of Gen. Young came Sunday afternoon at 3:05 o'clock at his home, 429 West Ormsby avenue, in Louisville. Few of his friends knew that he was seriously ill. Two weeks ago he went to Florida in the hope of improving his health.

He was barely able to walk Saturday night when he was brought back to Louisville.

After traveling in a private state-room and under the care of his wife and daughter, who joined him at Atlanta, the journey was too much for Gen. Young. It was necessary for Dr. Curran Pope to meet him at the Union Station with an ambulance. This was at 9:30 o'clock Saturday night. The patient was put to bed at once. He gradually sank until his death Sunday afternoon.

Gen. Young was born at Nicholasville, Ky., May 25, 1843, the son of Robert and Josephine Henderson Young. Although but 17 years old at the outbreak of the Civil War he served with Gen. John M. Morgan's famous cavalry command and was in command of the St. Alban's raid. At the end of the Civil War, Gen. Young spent three years in exile on account of the refusal of President Andrew Johnson to include his name in the amnesty proclamation. While exiled he completed a course of law and literature in the Queen's University of Ireland, and attended a year's lecture at the University of Edinburgh.

Gen. Young returned to America with such allies as Jno. C. Breckinridge, Jas. M. Mason, T. T. Hawkins, Charles J. Helm and John B. Castleman. He was known as the "baby exile," all the others being men well advanced in life, while Gen. Young was but 22 years old. He began the practice of law in Louisville upon his return to the State. He never had held a public office except that of member of the Constitutional Convention of 1900.

Gen. Young was appointed by Gov. McCreary in 1876 to represent Kentucky at the Paris Exposition.

Gen. Young held degrees from many colleges and universities. His earliest studies were at Centre College, Danville, Ky. In addition to the two foreign universities at which he studied, he held an honorary master of art degree given him by the Southwestern Presbyterian University, and a doctor of law degree, voted him by King's College, Tennessee, in 1891.

Gen. Young was in his seventy-sixth year, and a native Kentuckian. In 1913 he was given the highest honor possible for the old Confederacy to bestow on one of its faithful followers of the early sixties, when he was elected commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans. He held this high post of honor until 1916, when he retired and was made honorary commander-in-chief for life.

One of the last survivors of a memorable and heroic generation, Gen. Young was long a prominent figure in the business life of Louisville and the courts of the State and Jefferson county. He was an eloquent pleader before the bar, and twenty years ago the announcement that Gen. Young was to argue could always fill a courtroom.

THE MARCH WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION.

The first of a series of articles by Roland Phillips appears in the March Companion. Mr. Phillips is in France engaged in securing definite information about soldiers who are reported missing and he writes his experiences. An account of the way New York treats the returned soldier is given in "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," by Anna Steese Richardson. A third echo of the war is found in the Companion Family Album, showing photographs and letters of little French orphans adopted through the Companion.

The fiction includes the opening installment of an amusing tale of "Colonel Wilkie and the Ladies," by Corra Harris; and engaging stories by Mary Stewart Cutting, Elizabeth Jordan and Sarah Comstock.

A color painting of Lincoln's favorite photograph is exquisitely printed in colors, well worth a frame and permanent possession.

The end of the war has given impetus to fashions and they receive full attention in this issue.

Altogether the magazine is well-rounded and sparkling with interest.

SAVE MONEY ON SHOES FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

From Foochow, China, comes this letter from R. E. Gardner, Foochow College: "Neolin Soles have solved the shoe problem for me. Other soles wore out quickly on the rocky roads here, and I had no end of trouble with them," he writes.

Where other soles fail, Neolin Soles always stand the test of hard wear and rough usage. This fact points the way to economy. Buy Neolin-soled shoes for the whole family, and so save shoe money. And have Neolin Soles put on your old shoes, too.

These durable, flexible, and waterproof soles are scientifically made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear all other heels.
